<MSG>Governor,

I urge you to ban the extremely damaging practice of conversion therapy. New York Governor Cuomo recently took action and this is why more need to join.

Conversion therapy refers to the practice to change and help "cure" someone's sexual orientation. Sadly, this practice is used on minors, who have no legal authority to make their own medical decisions. These practices lead to depression, decreased self-esteem, substance abuse, suicidal behavior, and frequently result in suicide. That is why physiological, medical, and counseling associations are against this practice.

The associations also agree that this practice is ineffective, as well as extremely harmful, and damaging to individuals that go through these programs. A few of these organizations include: The American Medical Association, American Psychological Association, American Counseling Association, National Association of Social Workers, and the World Health Organization.

Without question, there is very clear evidence that conversion therapy does not work and only traumatizes patients more. Several states have passed laws banning licensed therapists from subjecting minors to such treatment, and I urge you to join the movement. Please do everything in your power to prohibit state-licensed mental healthcare providers from advertising or providing "conversion therapy" or "pray away the gay" therapy to anyone under the age of eighteen.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration,

Caleb Laieski
National Advocate for the LGBT Community, Public Safety, and the Environment

<msg>Dear Governor David Y. Ige,

I urge you to consider putting in education discrimination bills to protect LGBT students as they are more likely to be bullied by their peers. I also urge you to consider banning conversion therapy, as it does so much harm and makes kids live a life of fear. In a world full of hate, why not spread love?</msg> </app>

Apr 10, 2018 11:00 am | Linda Hohnholz

People who live on the island of Molokai in Hawaii will tell you that this tiny island is the real Hawaii: no high-rises, no chain restaurants, no tiki bars – just Hawaii as it has been for centuries. And now, tourists can enjoy this island paradise with even more comfort and style. While everyone else was spring cleaning, The Hotel Molokai was celebrating the season by creating an oasis in its...

Tech and manufacturing companies contributed more than \$1 billion to Hawaii economy

Apr 09, 2018 05:07 pm | Linda Hohnholz

Local small businesses boosted the Aloha state’s economy with an estimated total economic impact of $1.05 billion in 2017, according to the Hawaii Technology Development Corporation (HTDC) Annual Economic Impact Report of companies benefiting from HTDC programs. The economic benefit calculation is based on a multiplier that includes direct revenue, spending by the company, and employees’ spending. The state received $48.69 million in taxes generated. Approximately 71 percent of the 211...

Hawaii Tourism Authority President Szigeti: Cutting funding unnecessary

Apr 09, 2018 08:52 am | Juergen Steinmetz

The Hawaii Tourism Authority (HTA) was caught red handed with a mountain of problems, ineffectiveness and favorism after a less-than-favorable audit. Hawaii lawmakers are pushing to hold the Hawaii Tourism Authority more accountable through a bill that would slash the state agency's funding. HTA President and CEO George Szigeti was under impressions, last year's record tourism results — the 9.4 million visitors who came to Hawaii and the $16.8 billion that...

Fate of Hawaii Tourism Authority Budget still unknown

Apr 10, 2018 06:47 pm | Scott Foster

HONOLULU: After many years of negative State audits, the 2018 audit of the Hawaii Tourism Authority (HTA) was described as “scathing” and highlighted specific insider deals, favoritism, non-bid contracts and a glaring lack of board oversight at the Hawaii Tourism Authority. Push finally come to shove with the introduction of companion House and Senate bills with the House version becoming the vehicle. A recent Senate Draft 2 was heard and passed...

Tourists stranded on Kauai in Hawaii due to severe flooding

Apr 16, 2018 12:03 pm | HawaiiNewsOnline

Over the course of a 24-hour period, Kauai island in Hawaii was flooded with over 27 inches of rain. This resulted in landslides and flooding and even hampered air rescues. Tourists showed up at a Hanalei Elementary School shelter on Saturday evening due to flooding on the north shore of the island. Plans were to [...] Click on the headline to read the full article... – Submit your own story idea click...
